

EDHEM PASHA CAPTURES PHARSALA.

The Greeks Hurlled Back by a Superior Force.

ENCAMPED AT DOMOKOS.

M. Scouloudis Tells the Journal Correspondent He Is Not Discouraged.

NO SURRENDER AS YET.

The Turks Make a Fierce Attack on Smolenski's Army at Velesino.

WILL THE POWERS STOP WAR?

Representatives of England, France, Russia and Italy to Propose Mediation Between Combatants.

By Edward Abbott.

(Copyright, 1897, by W. R. Hearst.)

There is great depression in Athens to-day because of the news of the retreat of the Greek army to Domokos notwithstanding the victory of yesterday.

Many wild rumors are afloat.

M. Scouloudis, Minister of Foreign Affairs, gave me an interview in a private house to-day. He assured me that the Ministers were not discouraged by the position, as the Greek troops had held their own at all points against odds of nearly three to one, there being 65,000 Turks to 25,000 Greeks on the two lines.

He said the order for retreat was given after a council of war held here to prevent the Turks from being able to take the Greek in flank, which their numerical superiority made possible.

Hope to Hold Out.

The commanders have no doubt of being able to hold their present positions indefinitely. The wounded men, arms and ammunition were transported back in perfect order.

I asked if the removal of Colonel Vasos from Crete was a preliminary to the withdrawal of Greek troops.

He replied: "It has nothing to do with it. It was considered that his presence was required here on the frontier. The withdrawal of the troops from Crete is not under consideration by the council."

The Minister refused any information as to the action of the great powers.

I asked finally:

"May the policy of your government be described as one of war or peace?"

He replied:

"As we are at war, ours must naturally be a war policy, but the object of war is peace."

I will endeavor to see the Prime Minister to-morrow, but it is most difficult, as he is either in the council both night and day or engaged with telegrams from the seat of war.

Powers to Intervene.

(By Associated Press.)

Athens, May 6.—The report that the powers are intervening is confirmed. The Ministers of Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy have been instructed to propose mediation between Greece and Turkey, and similar instructions to the German and Austrian Ministers are expected every moment.

TO UPHOLD THE KING.

The Powers Will Send Troops to Athens to Maintain the Dynasty.

London, May 7.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Berlin says it is reported there that the powers have decided to land troops at Athens to protect the dynasty, Greece having declined the proffered mediation, and Turkey being willing to negotiate on easy terms if Crete is evacuated by the Greeks.

RETREAT OF THE GREEKS.

Turks Will Occupy Velesino as Well as Pharsala—Story of the Battle.

Athens, May 6.—A dispatch from Larissa announces that the Greeks have retreated from Pharsala to Domokos. The Turks have occupied Pharsala.

General Smolenski was preparing to evacuate Velesino, and the Turks hearing of this attacked the place in force. General Smolenski intends to retreat to Voio, which with the assistance of the warships he will try to hold.

It is probable that Smolenski is already on the way to Voio.

The Turks burned two villages near Velesino.

Description of the Fight.

A dispatch from Pharsala, dated 11 a. m. to-day, describes the battle there, which began yesterday.

A Turkish corps first appeared on the summit of Mount Tekke yesterday morning. From a formidable entrenched position on the hillside it attacked the Fourth Regiment at Velesino about midday. The latter made a strong resistance, but were finally compelled to fall slowly.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL PUPILS TAKE PART IN CELEBRATING TRINITY'S ANNIVERSARY.

Hundreds of boys and girls in light-colored suits and white lawn gowns marched from the parish house through the lanes of St. Paul's churchyard into the aisles of the chapel, singing processional hymns.

stroyed the village of Orskeni, which is about two hours' march north of Pharsala. The Crown Prince having ordered the entire army to draw up in line of battle, the Greeks advanced about 2 p. m. The Turks, numbering 30,000, immediately descended the slopes of Mount Tekke and planted batteries, which began to bombard the Greek regiments.

Owing to the superiority of weight, the Turkish cannon inflicted heavy losses upon the Greeks, especially near the station. The Turks continued to advance until they came into close quarters; and then the Crown Prince decided to retire to more commanding positions.

All the ammunition and supplies have been transported to Domokos, on the heights, of which the Greek batteries are prepared for action. The Turks have burned the village of Tatari, and they have massacred a priest and an entire family in the village of Dioskiri.

The losses of the Greeks in the fighting at Velesino and Pharsala yesterday were certainly one thousand killed and wounded, while the Turks, it is asserted, lost fully six thousand killed and wounded.

Edhem's Announcement.

Constantinople, May 6.—Edhem Pasha, the Turkish Commander in Chief in Thessaly, has sent the following dispatch to the Ministry of War dated this morning: "The imperial army while marching to Pharsala met the enemy in the villages of Soukthli, Soudji, Turcomani and Lamia. After a severe engagement lasting fifteen hours, we dislodged them from their positions and advanced to Pharsala, which the imperial army has just victoriously occupied."

NO GENERAL WAR.

Lord Salisbury Declares the Critical Point Has Been Passed.

London, May 6.—At the annual meeting of the Primrose League, the leading Tory organization, Lord Salisbury spoke upon the Greek-Turkish war and the concert of Europe, the main object of which, he said, was to prevent a European war, adding that the belief prevailed that all danger of such a war was finally dispelled. Her Majesty's Government, the Premier also said, would do its best to end the bloodshed.

In his concluding reference to the war the Marquis of Salisbury said:

"It may be that Turkey has exhibited proofs of strength which few suspected, and perhaps a better future is open to the dominions of the Sultan." Referring to South Africa, the Premier declared that the London convention must be observed.

CIPRIANI IN HIDING.

Athens Police Hunting for the Italian for Inciting Demonstrations Against the King.

Rome, May 6.—A dispatch from Athens to-day announces that Senor Cipriani, the Italian Socialist leader, who headed the first detachment of Italian volunteers which crossed the Greek frontier into Macedonia, and who subsequently disbanded his followers in disgust and returned to Athens, has been arrested at the Greek capital for inciting the recent demonstrations against the royal family.

Cipriani, however, was rescued by a mob from the hands of the police and is now in hiding. If he does not succeed in escaping the whole rich, green plain. And the endurance and dash of the Turks were magnificent, too.

I reached the battlefield with a regiment whose men immediately began to run forward, dancing under fire, and shouting like children when they saw the enemy. The Greeks repulsed them vigorously, and followed up the repulse.

The Turks had formed in a semicircle of thundering batteries and crackling battalions. The division on the extreme right tried to cut off the retreat to Domokos, while the remainder of the force dug itself upon Pharsala.

The battle was but little like the but as described in books. There was no firing of volleys, no bayonet assault, no rush, no cheering; but only a steady, leisurely advance into the open in perfect order. There was some individual firing, and the soldiers shouted "Allah, Allah" till the constant repetition swelled into one heavy, monotonous shout like the "Hear, hear" of the House of Commons.

Mr. Curzon, in reply, said he was happy to assure the House that Sir Ellis was in no personal danger. It was not likely the honorable member would be regarded as a combatant of war. He had been taken to Athens, Mr. Curzon explained, and had been placed at the disposal of Her Majesty's Legation there.

The newspapers have been poking considerable fun at Sir Ellis since, in January last, he was decorated by the Sultan of Turkey with the Grand Order of the Medjidieh.

BATTLE OF PHARSALA.

Greeks and Turks Fought Well, But the Former Were Outnumbered.

London, May 7.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Pallas, under date of Wednesday, says:

"The Greek battalion to-day attacked the Turks near Philippia. The Greeks fought well, but their ammunition was soon expended and they were compelled to retire. Officers and men in Epirus are bitterly disappointed with the headquarters staff, as lately the soldiers have been plundered by their compatriots. A very unsatisfactory condition of things exists."

BRITISH SHIP WRECKED.

The Traveler Wrecked Off Rodrigues—Captain and Crew Die of Fever.

Port Louis, Island of Mauritius, May 6.—The British ship Traveler, Captain Christie, from South Africa for Delaware Breakwater, was wrecked off the Island of Rodrigues, 330 miles east-northeast of Mauritius, on February 4, but the news has only just reached here. Her hull materials were lost, but 300 tons of the cargo have been saved. Captain Christie, his first officer and fourteen of the crew died at sea of fever.

The Traveler was built at Dumbarton, Scotland, in 1870. She registered 1,420 tons and was owned by J. R. Hays & Co., of Liverpool.

between the river and the mountains, with no room to deploy.

The sight was superb. In many places the Greeks fought with the courage of despair. The great, black masses, forming the rear guard to hold the bridge, covered the whole rich, green plain. And the endurance and dash of the Turks were magnificent, too.

BOERS PREPARE TO FIGHT.

Appeal to the Afrikanders for Help Natal Border to Be Patrolled.

London, May 6.—A dispatch from Cape Town says that the Army Reserve of the colony of Natal has been notified to hold itself in readiness for active service.

The authorities of the Transvaal have instructed their field cornets to thoroughly patrol the Natal border and report instantly any suspicious movements.

A circular from the Transvaal has been distributed in Cape Colony and in the Orange Free State calling upon the Afrikanders for help. It says:

"We do not want your money or moral support. We want you to come and help us."

Pretoria, May 6.—The Volksraad held a protracted secret session yesterday to discuss the answer to be made to the dispatches of Mr. Chamberlain, British Secretary of State for the Colonies, which demanded a repeal of the Transvaal Immigration law.

Today the Volksraad repealed the law, not because it was a breach of the London convention, but because it was distasteful to neighboring States.

Mr. Coetser, the Transvaal State Attorney, has tendered his resignation in disapproval of the repeal.

BISHOP POTTER GOING ABROAD.

Many Engagements in England, One of Them Being to Address Workmen.

Bishop Potter will sail for Europe to-morrow on the Cunard liner Lucania. He will remain abroad until the month of August, spending most of his time in England. Among his many engagements abroad is one to deliver a sermon as select preacher before the students of Cambridge University on the morning of May 23. On June 13 next he will preach the annual sermon in memory of William Shakespeare in the church at Stratford-on-Avon. He has also received an invitation from the Rev. Henry Walsingham How, rector of Mirkfield, Northampton, to preach on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the accession of Victoria to the throne of England. The Dean and other authorities of Westminster Abbey have extended an invitation to Bishop Potter to deliver the sermon this year at the recurrence of the anniversary of America's Independence, July 4, and he will probably accept the honor tendered to him.

Three Musical Union Delegates.

Robert A. Mullen, John Flaherty and John McAdams left this city yesterday for Kansas City, Mo., to attend a convention of the American Federation of Musicians, which begins there next week. They go to the convention as delegates for the season of May, July 4, and he will probably accept the honor tendered to him.

To Boston and Providence.

The popular Providence Line steamers for Providence, Boston, Worcester and all points north and east, will resume passenger service for the season of May, July 4, and he will probably accept the honor tendered to him.

Ellas Lenz, among the negro slaves, an of Henry Barclay among the Mohawks. Lenz was a member of Trinity's parish, and the Rev. Henry Barclay was its second rector.

After more hymns there was a benediction, and, singing the recessional hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," rector, curates, vicars and Sunday school scholars marched back to the parish house.

At Trinity Church there had been a morning prayer at 9 and a service at noon when the Rev. Dr. William Reed Huntington, of Grace Church, preached. His subject was "A Strong Centre." He said: "Trinity Church is, first of all, a great object lesson as respects the value of historic continuity. In a country so new as this it is scarcely possible to overestimate the importance of old landmarks."

All Opposition in Vain.

"Let us thank God that thus far no power, municipal or commercial, has availed to obliterate Trinity churchyard. Strong as is the testimony which this sacred edifice bears to the principle of continuity, still stronger is the silent witness of these time-honored graves."

"Trinity Church has been a great conservator of worship, and if it had done nothing else than hold up a high standard of divine service it would have deserved well of the community, whose foremost home of prayer it has always been. But Trinity Church, in point of fact, has been more than this. It has been the witness, all these years, to the value of strong centers in the matter of the propagation of the faith."

DEMAND TRIAL BY JURY

Justice Andrews Expected to Hand Down a Decision in a Few Days Determining the Right of Saloon Men to It.

The question whether a liquor dealer who violates the Ralnes law has a right to a trial by jury or whether the Court of Special Sessions has exclusive jurisdiction in such cases was argued before Justice Andrews in the Supreme Court yesterday. The Justice will hand down a decision in a few days on the matter, which will be a precedent.

Former Assistant District Attorney O'Hara and Lawyer Frederick B. House, representing Bernard McMahon and Mrs. Ethel Girard, respectively, both of whom were arrested for violating the liquor law, argued that the cases of their clients should be transferred from Special to General Sessions, so that they might have the benefit of jury trials.

The part of the present Ralnes law under dispute is section No. 35. This section declares that misdemeanors under the Ralnes law shall be "prosecuted" in Special Sessions. Assistant District Attorney D. Frank Lloyd claimed that by this section Special Sessions has the exclusive right to try such cases, while the counsel on the other side argued that it meant that an accused person might exercise his right to say whether he would be tried in Special Sessions or by a jury, as was formerly the case.

Putting the baby to bed is the good-night joy of a happy day to a healthy mother. Many mothers delegate this motherly duty to a nurse. Some mothers hardly see their baby the live-long day. This is not because they are without mother-love or the natural impulses of a womanly woman. It is because of their own ill-health and broken nerves, and because baby is also sickly and peevish.

This unfortunate state of affairs might have been avoided had the mother, during the period of expectant motherhood, taken the right care of the delicate organs that make maternity possible. A woman should always keep these important organs well and strong. Her own health and that of her child depend upon it.

The best medicine for prospective mothers is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes healthy and strong the organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It cures disease and weakness. It makes comfortable the period preceding motherhood and renders the advent of baby easy and nearly painless. It insures a healthy child. The pains and sufferings that women endure, as a result of weakness of the distinctly womanly organs, vanish under its use. All good druggists sell it. There is nothing else "just as good."

"I want to tell you," writes Mrs. N. A. Thomas, of 400 Pulaski Street, New York City, "that my daughter, Mrs. Lawrence, who lives in Texas, Ark., had been under the doctor's care for four years, lately sent her word to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and I have just heard that it has done her more good than all the doctors."
